BERKELEY PERILED BY BRUSH FIRE

STUDENTS SAID FIGHT ON BLAZE

BERKELEY, Nov. 1.—UP—Flames that for nearly two hours had threatened Berkeley were controlled by 500 students of the University of California and the city's entire fire department tonight.

The conflagration crept within half a mile of the city limits when 750 acres of brush land was burned over. A temporary wall of 40 mile wind channeled the fire fighters to get in front of the blaze and the fire fighters held it stationary until it burned itself out.

Brush from the fire that was being swept by a 40 mile an hour wind were falling in the outskirts of Berkeley and all available men were called to duty to prevent a destructive conflagration.

The flames were in the vicinity of Grizzly peak, which is directly behind the University of California campus and about half a mile from the city.

The high wind and low humidity brought fears that the blaze might result in a fire as disastrous as the one that destroyed 44 blocks of expensive homes in north Berkeley in 1923.

Cause of the fire was unknown but it was thought it might have started from the camp of a surveying party in the hills east of the city.

The blaze had jumped a wide fire break and roared down Strawberry canyon, thru which runs Strawberry creek, a stream that later passes through the university campus.

University students and Boy Scouts were called out to aid the firemen in battling the blaze. All available apparatus in the city was sent to the scene under direction of Fire Chief George Haggerty.

VET HELD IN SHOOTING OF OFFICER

VALLEJO, Nov. 1.—Pulling a gun from his coat sleeve, Harry Scott, 35, of Detroit, said to be a World war veteran, shot and probably fatally wounded Patrolman John Leary here tonight.

Scott was overpowered by Patrolman Bob Crabtree, who had accompanied Leary, and was taken to the city jail. Leary is in the general hospital here. His condition is serious.

Scott arrived here today from Detroit, and went to the home of Mrs. B. S. Howe, 346 Kentucky street, a relative of his estranged wife. Learning the address of Mrs. J. E. Corcoran, 519 Virginia street, his mother-in-law, whom Scott is said to have blamed for his marital difficulties, he went to the home where he found two painters at work.

Police declare that he drew a gun and threatened the two men. One of the painters escaped and ran to the police station.

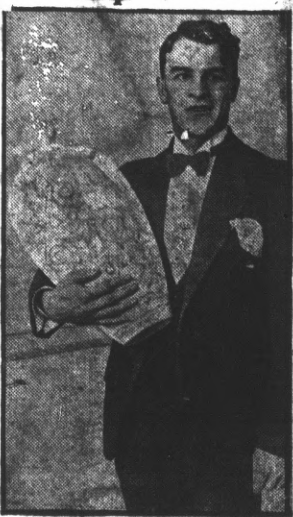

Leary and Crabtree rushed to the Corcoran home and found Scott on the front porch. They searched him and found no weapons.

As the two policemen directed Scott to get in the police car parked in front of the home, he suddenly drew a pistol from his coat sleeves and shot Leary two times in the face and head, police report.

Crabtree, after a brief tussle, unarmed Scott and handcuffed him.

According to police, Scott abandoned his wife and two children in Detroit several weeks ago. She was brought to California by her mother, Mrs. Corcoran. Scott then started a search for her, which ended at the home of his mother-in-law.

Herewith is presented a long-desired opportunity to Richmond musical artists and entertainers.

Radio station KFWM, which will soon start broadcasting from Richmond, is in the market for talent, and it particularly desires to secure as much as possible of local talent.

This is the gist of an announcement by W. L. Gleeson, station manager, who invited all candidates to attend the regular audition at the Oakland studio, 1520 Eighth avenue, next Wednesday night, between 8 and 11.

Full Try Outs

"As we will be a Richmond station, we are desirous of using as many people from this city as possible on our programs," said Gleeson yesterday. "A full try-out will be given all applicants."

FALL TERM SUSPENSION FAVORED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—UP—Albert B. Fall was sentenced today to serve a year in jail and to pay a $100,000 fine, for conviction on a charge of accepting a $100,000 bribe while he was Secretary of the Interior in the Harding cabinet eight years ago.

The 58-year old plainman, much improved in health since his bronchial attack during his trial, received the sentence calmly determined to fight to the end.

In the face of Justice William Hitz's statement that he would suspend the prison sentence if no appeal delayed the judgment, Fall instructed his lawyers to prepare to appeal the verdict to the U. S. Supreme court if necessary.

Justice Hitz said he would have imposed the maximum sentence of three years in prison and a $300,000 fine—triple the amount of the bribe, "if conditions were normal." Due to Fall's illness he stood ready to suspend the sentence, but because of the appeal, he merely stated for the record that he favors suspension of the sentence as long as Fall's condition is as low as it is now.

Although the judge did not specifically mention it in his sentence, Fall, under the mandatory provisions of the bribery statute, also is disqualified from holding any federal office of "honor, trust or profit."

Bond Renewed

Fall's bond of $50,000, on which he has been free since he was indicted on the bribery charge five and one-half years ago, was renewed by the judge as an appeal bond.

Government Prosecutors Owen J. Roberts and Atlas Pomeroy, who were present to hear sentence imposed, announced they were making arrangements to have the similar bribery indictment against E. L. Doheny, the oil multi-millionaire set for trial early in January. Doheny gave the $100,000 as a loan, according to both Fall and Doheny.

Whipping Post For State Crime Urged

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—UP—The whipping post and short sentences in prison," he said. "I am convinced that long sentences are a failure."

"A long sentence in state's prison makes it necessary to build more prisons to accommodate the thousands of felons convicted each year. With short sentences the prisons now in use would be available and thousands of dollars of the taxpayers money would be saved."

"There is but one way to curb the crime situation in this country and that is the whipping post and the hardest labor imaginable on the rock pile during a short sentence in prison," he said.

GUN FIRED DURING DREAM

SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 1.—UP—Clutching a revolver under her pillow during a dream, Miss Doris McConnell, 19, of Oakland, shot and killed herself while she slept here early today, authorities said tonight they were convinced.

Officials had determined that the girl had no motive for committing suicide.

Miss McConnell had retired with Miss Lillian Rankin, who did not hear the shot because it was muffled by the pillow. Investigators said Miss McConnell had apparently pulled the trigger of the gun while she was sound asleep. The victim was a close friend of Marval Croson, aviator, who was killed during a recent national air derby.

Grid Fans Off For Long Walk To Lodi

The height of something or other was reached yesterday afternoon when Clifford Garvin and Gaston Muylle, two Lodi football players, took a notch in their belt and set off for Lodi—on foot.

The two boys are "rabit" football fans and early yesterday morning they decided that they must see the Richmond Union high school-Lodi football game today at Lodi at all costs.

They could have taken a train or a stage to Lodi—but there's no fun in that, they decided. Their best idea was to "hoof it."

Early yesterday afternoon the two left the RECORD-HERALD office at Twenty-second street and Macdonald avenue, declaring they would reach the game by hook or crook.

Both Muylle and Garvin declared that they will not be riding along the highway but if passing motorists are kind enough to offer a lift to the boys—well, or a stage to Lodi—but there's that is a different proposition.

Crippled S. P. Ferry To Resume Schedule

MARTINEZ, Nov. 1.—The Southern Pacific ferry steamer, Contra Costa, with repairs virtually completed, is scheduled to resume its Port Costa-Benicia train ferry service on Sunday or Monday.

Handicaps that the railroad has been operating under will be greatly relieved by the return of the Contra Costa.

The Solano, companion ferry of the Contra Costa, was disabled immediately after the latter went into dry dock, and it has been necessary since, to operate the Solano with the assistance of a tug.

As soon as the Contra Costa returns, the Solano will be tied up for inspection and repairs.

The S. P. was forced to reroute many of its trains by way of Stockton and Martinez, due to the disabling of the Solano.

Supervisors Stand On Bus Line Asked

MARTINEZ, Nov. 1.—At a meeting of the Contra Costa county board of supervisors, Monday, it will be determined whether or not the board will oppose the application of the Consolidated Motor company to operate an automobile freight line from Oakland over the Tunnel highway to Contra Costa county. Application was made for a railroad commission franchise, and the board will determine its policy of opposition or silence on the application.

District Attorney A. B. Tinning said today that he will ask the supervisors to express its attitude, which, in view of previous stands is expected to be in opposition to the project.

Permitting is being sought by the company to operate to Moraga, Lafayette, Orinda, Walnut Creek, Danville and San Ramon.

and is contemplating addition to an existing application, to include Concord, Bay Point and Pittsburg. The board will oppose the application of the Consolidated Motor company to operate an automobile freight line from Oakland over the Tunnel highway to Contra Costa county. Application was made for a railroad commission franchise, and the board will determine its policy of opposition or silence on the application.

Concord chamber of commerce has taken an opposite stand, and has adopted a resolution opposing the granting of any franchise for operation of any type of bus service on the Tunnel highway on the ground that it would be hazardous to other traffic.

The girls were Margaret Swartz, 13, daughter of an architect, and Laura Barnard, 11, daughter of an appellate court judge.

Parents of Margaret and Laura said they would question them about every detail of their stories. The girls said the venture was only a "Hallow'en lark" and they were attempting to hike to a friend who was staying at Camp Sierra.

They said they obtained an automobile ride to Clovis and the home of "a blind man" where they were allowed to stay all night. They were both tired and started crying when they reached home.

PANTAGES TO STAY IN JAIL

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—(UP)—Alexander Pantages made no attempt to gain liberty under bond today when Nov. 9 was set as the date of arguments for a new trial on his conviction on a charge of assaulting 17-year old Eunice Pringle.

Sentencing of the multimillionaire theater man to a mandatory term of one to 50 years in San Quentin prison was delayed pending the arguments.

It had been expected that Pantages' attorneys would make a determined effort to gain permission for their client to leave the county jail while the fight for a new trial, both in superior court and higher courts is in progress.

Pantages scoffed at published reports that district attorney Burton Fitts feared he planned to escape into Mexico by airplane from San Diego.

The showman protested when he was handcuffed for the first time to be led from the county jail, but the handcuffs were clamped on nevertheless. His two sons, Rodney and Lloyd, his daughter Carmen and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elvira Mendezhall, were in the courtroom.

A Woman's Bloc Against the Tariff?

WHETHER the Hawley-Smoot Tariff becomes law or not, it will be decidedly interesting to note what the women do—either to prevent or to avenge it. There has just been organized in New York the Women's Non-Partisan Fair Tariff Committee, and at its first meeting there are some of the women represented and some of the things they said:

Representative Mary T. Norton of New Jersey declared: "In this matter we stand as women and not as Democrats, Republicans or Socialists. There are questions that transcend party lines, and when they come before us we act as women."

"The absolute necessities of life, if this bill becomes law, will be taxed beyond the reach of this average wage-earner."

"The tax on meat, butter, milk, sugar, cream will be increased 100 per cent. There will be a tariff of 25 cents on a 50-cent toothbrush, $1 on a $2 pair of kid gloves and on a $4 hat. A $5 pair of shoes will be increased to $10. Household linen will be increased from 10 to 20 per cent. Why is there a necessity for a tariff raising the price of everything?"

It was Mrs. Norton who said that both Representatives and Senators are beginning to realize that they may encounter "a woman's bloc" over the tariff, when next they face elections.

IDA TARBELL, author of "The Tariff in Our Times," pointed out that the "ill-shaped industry into which the protective tariff has grown in the years since the Civil War" lays the burden of the women who are rearing children, on budgets where every penny counts and where the burden is made heavier by every cent which is added to the necessities of life.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said that the tariff "has a real bearing on international affairs and will affect the way in which people feel toward us in other countries. This country cannot afford to jeopardize its relations with the rest of the world."

A third resentful voice was raised by Mrs. Edward P. Earle Jr., President of another non-partisan group, the Brooklyn League of Women Voters.

IN 1892 Speaker Tom Reed blamed the "shopping women" for turning the Federal Government over to the Democrats, exactly two years after the Republicans passed the McKinley Tariff Bill. And women had no vote in 1892.

Now the "shopping women" have also become the "voting women." If a tariff which they resent is passed, will there actually go to the polls in the United States "a woman's bloc"? Time and the next election may tell. Meanwhile, here's one political question in which nobody can accuse women of not taking an interest!

SKIRT-ING THE SUBJECT
THE WOMAN OF IT: Congratulations upon your stand in favor of the sensible short skirt! If ever there seemed a time for women to set a precedent and assert their independence, to decide for themselves what they are to wear, it is now.

If the conservative element is pointing with joy to the modest aspect of the long skirt, I ask them to pause a moment and regard the flagrant exhibition of every curve of the feminine form, which is so cleverly displayed by the new dresses! The straight-line simple frock has given way to an indelicately designed mode, which demands not only corsets of a most unhygienic make (for those whose form is not divine), but also a still more cleverly concocted brasserie cunningly shaped so as to reveal every line. The whole impression of such clothes on streets or in offices is bizarre—a nightmare of poor taste.

Extremists there are in every style, and those who carried the mode of the short skirt to its utmost possible limit were just as ridiculous and in just as bad taste as are the women to whom the present form-fitting, long-skirted style is unsuitable.

Styles may come or go as they please—I shall wear colors, lines, lengths most suitable to myself, my particular choice in three inches below the knee for daytime, and a trifle longer for evening. Nor shall I try to achieve a WASP waist or a top-heavy appearance! M. P. R.

THE WOMAN OF IT: May I say a few words in defense of the new "housewife"? As a business girl and one who is interested in the woman's ready-to-wear field, I would say that some women are becoming needlessly particular over the corseted figure and lengthened skirts.

It is not necessary for the woman of the future to wear the extremely long skirts and fitted princess lines. As a matter of course, there are many styles incorporating new lines, which are made with an added length of about two inches—not objectionable, indeed flattering in about fifty per cent of the cases. Surely you cannot object to the graceful afternoon and evening gowns of this season, if worn at the proper time? No one wishes to be practical on these occasions.

Hoover's Overruling of Mitchell's Objection to Naming Hopkins for U. S. Bench Spurs Senators to Demand Patronage They Seek

WASHINGTON, D. C.

President Hoover's retreat from his program of picking Federal Judges without respect to politics is likely to encourage other Republican Senators to lead a new offensive for approval of their political recommendations.

The selection of Richard J. Hopkins of Kansas, as a United States District Judge for Kansas, represents a more severe reversal of policy by the White House than any other patronage choice thus far, not excepting the appointment of Albert Watson of Scranton, of the Middle Pennsylvania Judgeship.

Confirmation of Watson now is under fire in the Senate. His unfitness for the Federal bench is being asserted at public hearings by the Senate Committee on the Judiciary.

By Pierre Van Paesen

Crime in Holy Land

It is little realized in the West that murder is a very common occurrence in Palestine. Among themselves the Arabs often have the bloodiest quarrels and to whom the stupidity and crassness of his foe simply are beyond any human comprehension.

Senator Smoot has said several times that the pending tariff is the best bill in years. It is a devilish masterpiece, devised by superstitious master minds. That should have ended the matter. For some reason beyond his powers of analysis the "consumers coalition" does not see his point. They are too dense for his platitudes to pierce their brains or else they are conspirators. In a devilish intrigue against permitting the American people to enjoy the benefactions of himself to Joseph R. Grundy.

It is just too bad, but Senator Smoot is at a loss to know what he can do about it. He has done everything humanly possible to rig up the tariff monstrosity. In a devilish intrigue against permitting the American people to enjoy the benefactions of himself to Joseph R. Grundy.

Every one around the Senate is aware of the low state of Senator Smoot's mind as he sits hour by hour and day after day hearing what to him are nonsensical or just plain demagogical arguments against his tariff bill and to roll call votes devastating it. He would worry less about the custom of his dining in his ears assertions that they will not permit him to restore rejected provisions he took such pains in drafting. Things have come to a pretty pass in the Senate when a conference with the House cannot nullify a few new tariff provisions.

Pat Harrison just keeps on rubbing the salty observations into the wounds Senator Smoot has borne so bravely, so patiently, so silently.

When Warren Wheaton writes that "The most earnest of previous little help to Senator David A. Reed of Pennsylvania, in maintaining the Administration end in the tariff fight, Senator Harrison was not to be denied."

The glub gentleman from Guilford asserts his resentment of any such statements. He thinks Senator Smoot has been a lot of help to the Administration in fact, according to Harrison, Smoot deserves all the credit in the world for being one of the very few Republicans in the Senate who has attempted to defend the tariff bill. All the others have been clams. Smoot was not afraid to speak out.

And, there sits the perturbed Smoot, his hands folded under his chin, his face flushed, his mouth a stranger to a smile and silent for crafty or devastating retort, his head bowing over and on in incredulity over such goings on in the Senate as he has lived to witness within three years of his three score and ten to see an old dog here.

The manner in which four Senators, colleagues of Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, went after him in the lobby inquiry for his having taken a paid office of the Connecticut Manufacturers Association in the secret sessions of the Finance Committee is a lot of help to the Administration in fact, according to Harrison, Smoot deserves all the credit in the world for being one of the very few Republicans in the Senate who has attempted to defend the tariff bill. All the others have been clams. Smoot was not afraid to speak out.

The manner in which four Senators, colleagues of Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, went after him in the lobby inquiry for his having taken a paid office of the Connecticut Manufacturers Association in the secret sessions of the Finance Committee is a lot of help to the Administration in fact, according to Harrison, Smoot deserves all the credit in the world for being one of the very few Republicans in the Senate who has attempted to defend the tariff bill. All the others have been clams. Smoot was not afraid to speak out.

And, there sits the perturbed Smoot, his hands folded under his chin, his face flushed, his mouth a stranger to a smile and silent for crafty or devastating retort, his head bowing over and on in incredulity over such goings on in the Senate as he has lived to witness within three years of his three score and ten to see an old dog here.

EXTRA! EARTHQUAKE HITS NEW YORK

REPRINTED from the Brooklyn Evening Currier of Oct. 27, 1924:

The wholesale earthquake predicted for New York by scientists in 1929 took place yesterday according to schedule. The city sustained eighteen distinct shocks, breaking all seismicographic records. Tens of thousands of homes were destroyed, tall buildings crashed to the ground and October cotton touched a new low. In the office of the Board of Estimate, valuable records were destroyed. Only the "Pagan Love Song" and "Sonny Boy" disks were saved.

Mayor Walker issued the following statement this morning: "This earthquake is one of the greatest acts of God in my Administration. A few weeks ago I promised a shake-up in various city departments and the results show that I have made good."

"New York will be rebuilt at once. It will rise from its ruins and be bigger, better and bolder than ever before. We will have more playgrounds, more schools, more radio stations and more band concerts for the people. The City Geologist's office reports numerous crevices in the earth's surface. All north and southbound crevices will be covered with asphalt and then we shall have more subways. For the present I have nothing more to say except that I shall be a candidate for re-election in 1925."

The city's supply of drinking water was cut off completely. Two hours after the catastrophe, bootleggers were selling genuine pre-earthquake XXXX Crotona Aqueduct water for $6 a quart. Supplies are being shipped from Boston and Worcester, respectively. Connecticut has sent a carload of wooden nutmegs. Rush consignments of garters and corsets are being shipped from Boston and Worcester, respectively. Alabama sent twenty-four votes for the Underwood. Philadelphia sent Quaker Oats to New York as soon as she learns of the earthquake.

"I was in Longacre Square, listening to a friend describe his act," said John shot.

The Zigzag offices announced this morning that the Folies of 1924 would be rebuilt immediately. "But it will be my last Folies," said Mr. Zigzag. "Production costs are getting too high."

"I was walking up Fifth Avenue when the quake struck and I saw the Schmalz of Nutley, N. J." When the Flatiron Building hit me, I thought I was home."

Out of a total of 5,209 oranges, 6,188 crumbled in the earthquake. Four oranges were crushed. One of the saddest accidents of the holocaust occurred in front of the Public Library. In the destruction of the library, one of the marble lions in front of it was decapitated. The other one escaped injury, but suffered so much from the loss of its mate it had to be replaced. Six hundred song writers were engaged at their work when the buildings swayed and caved in. Unfortunately, none of them was killed.

An exclusive Park Avenue restaurant lost $18,950 in the quake when seven customers escaped without paying their checks.

OFFICIALS PLAN RED CROSS DRIVE

George A. Rader, Richmond Red Cross Roll Call chairman, assisted by a large number of committee chairmen of the local chapter, is preparing for the coming roll call campaign that will start on Nov. 11, and will continue to Nov. 25. The local chapter is expecting to exceed any effort made since the years of the World war.

The plan as worked out by Rader and his advisory committee of 11 well known Richmond citizens has won favorable notice from the national organization, while the San Francisco office is watching the work in Richmond with interest.

House Canvass
"The main feature of the plan as it affects the most of our citizens," states Rader, "consists of a thorough house to house canvass throughout the entire jurisdiction of the Richmond chapter, which includes El Cerrito and San Pablo."

"The city of Richmond has been divided into 30 districts under the general chairmanship of Mrs. E. L. Scofield. A captain will be in charge of each district and will be assisted by several workers. There will be approximately 400 workers in the entire roll call organization."

"Already considerable progress has been made by all committees with plans well underway, and we have every hope of bringing up the local membership to the point where our program for next year work can be carried out. We need here in Richmond an executive secretary serving full time and should have a visiting nurse in the field. Considerably more than half the funds raised will go to the support of our local work, while an enlarged membership in Red Cross here in Richmond will encourage the local organization to greater endeavors and will enhance that spirit of service which all wide awake communities should have."

The next meeting of the local chapter will be held in the Memorial hall Tuesday, and several prominent officials of the national order will be present.
